REV. MR. M'KAY SAYS

Who Makes Our Politics and Tells Also Who Should Make Them.

HE DIGS AT THE LIQUOR DEALER.

And Asserts All Political Parties Cater to Their Wants.

SOME MORAL ISSUES SADLY WANTED

"Who Shall Make Our Politics?" was the subject of a sermon preached last night by the Rev. J. W. McKay at Wilson's Hall, East Ead, and he took his text from the remark of Christ according to the gospel of St. Matthew: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." "I will introduce my remarks of this evening," the reverend gentleman began his discourse, "by stating that I shall never appear before you as a dictator. It is not my intention to come to you and say you ought to do this, and the only right way of doing a thing is the way I tell you to do so and so. I do not assume any superiority over you in regard to anything. You may have ideas of your own that are just as good as mine, and no man has a right to presume an over-righteousness. I am a minister, not a dictator, a helper and adviser, but not a commander. When I speak on the subject of 'Who Shall Make Our Politics,' I am not going to assert my own opinions and convictions as superior to all others. I simply intend to criticise, and whatever I say I do not deem to be above

HIS MIND CHANGED.

"I used to think that politics had nothing to do with religion, and I believe the first and even the second time I voted according to the dictations of the party to which I belonged. I am of a different opinion today. If we were all righteous and our duty would dwindle into a minimum.

"Now as to the political parties existing in a campaign during the last ten years with a single moral issue? I do not think so, and why was it? Because there were no moral sues to be taken up? No not at all. They were abounding. But politics and morality seemed to be held as not in harmony with each other. In the future I shall look at the man and the cause he represents before I cast my vote in favor of him, and if he is a person whom think would do to others as he would be done by I shall vote for him. I object to the way the party platforms are made up nowadays; and why? Because the main planks in our political platforms are made by the worst element of our country. When the convention of the W. C. T. U. asked the Republican party to put pro-hibition into their platform, they were told to do it, and when the Democrats were asked to side with prohibition they said the same thing. The liquor dealers, however, a class of people who spring from the lowest and most depraved element of the American population, got all the planks they wanted. The mainstay of our political parties of today is drawn directly from the lowest and the roughest of people.

NOT THE BIGHT TIME

"What we have to do in the future is to How Jack Donivan Was Almost Done Up who holdeth this world within the hollow of His hand must be our first consideration in politics or out of them; and whenever a to the house of John Cassady, at Singer's question comes up before you and your vote is asked for it, to decide it one way or the other, weigh the question well and be sure to cast your ballot on the side of right. In all things remember: "Whatsoever ye would about 11 o'clock, when a quarrel arose about

FORMALLY REORGANIZED.

The Universalists of Pittsburg Recognized as a Church-Dr. Sweetser's Good

Foundation Discourse. Yesterday will be recorded as a red letter day in the annals of Universalism in this city, for it witnessed the first definite attempt to organize the membership of the church which, up to two months ago, had not had any regular services here for upwards of 12 years. Then the Universalist Church occupied the site of the present Hebrew Synagogue, and its membership was fairly numerous; but when the missionary from the State Convention, the Rev. W. Scott Williams, came to this city at the end of April, as a nucleus round which to form the new congregation, he had but the names of a few of the old members and his own enthusiasm and ardor in his work. That the pastor's efforts have borne truit was exemplified yesterday at 11 o'clock, when about 300 adherents of the doctrine of Universalism had assembled in the Union Veteran Legion Hall, in Sixth avenue, to take part in the special services of the occasion.

About 20 adults and 3 children were baptised and admitted as members of the congregation. The Rev. Dr. E. C. Sweetser, of Philadelphia, ex-President of the Universalist General Convention, was present, representing the State Board of Philadelphia and to assist in the reorganization In his address Dr. Sweetser made a lengthened reference to the reverence of the Israelpecially to the manner in which they regarded the latter temple as the actual dwelling place of Jehovah. Continuing, Dr.

Sweetser said:

Paul was set free from the superstitious ideas of his people, but even he, to the day of his death, was never wholly free from the images and conceptions which had such a hold of the Jewish mind of that period. But he conceived a grander structure, the Christian Church, the spiritual temple, built on Jesus Christ as a corner stone. Why is it that the Christian Church is called a temple, A temple is a place which God inhabits, and the temple of Jesus is the abiding place of Jesus of Nazareth. Just as a flower sent to a loved one indicates the affection of the sender, so in the same sense God shows his love by living in the hearts of His children. God enters and dwells in the hearts of His people as in a temple, and where a few of His people are gathered together there God dwells.

The Christian Church must have a foundation. The apostles did not build the church on themselves. What then, was this foundation?

themselves. What, then, was this foundation? It was the life, miracles, the history, the death on Calvary of Jesus Christ, and His command to them, "Go ye and teach all nations." On these fundamental truths did they build the Christian Church.

A foundation must have a corner stone, and the aposiles say that Jesus Christ was the corner stone. The Christian Church depends on what Jesus taught, and Christ was an essential factor in it. Take away Jesus Christ, and the temple comes tumbling about your ears. There was one perfect stone in the structure of the church and that was Jesus Christ. Even the apostles were not perfect.

The Christian may be compared with a rough stone which makes up the integral part of any building. When the Church shall be finished it will be universal in the fullest sense of the word: it will be catholic. Not Roman Catholic, for that is not universal; but the Hely Catholic Church. Who would not hasten to belong to such a church? I congratulate you, my friends, on being here this morning, as living stones in the structure of the Church.

The pastor, Rey, Mr. Williams, then The pastor, Rev. Mr. Williams, then made a short address. He said:

made a short address. He said:

It is that we might become those living stones that we come into this place to organize ourselves into a temple. There are a great many stones in the city of Pittsburg, and many which are not wrought out as they should be. The proper ideal is not in the mind of the individual: the fullest conception has notentered the mind of the community. The work of the Church should be to band ourselves together so that we may grow into perfect stones.

The pastor, after likening the anirityal The pastor, after likening the spiritual attributes of marriage to the condition of mind to be fostered toward the Church, said that he had no doubt that everyone present would try to attain the perfection of that per-fectatione. Three children were then baptised, and then, when Dr. Sweetser had explained the doctrines of Universalism, he requested those who were willing to enter the Church to assent by bowing the head. Dr. Sweetser and the pastor next shook hands with the members, saving to each: "I extend to you members, saying to each: "I extend to you the right hand of fellowship, as your pastor, or on behalf of the State Board of Penn-

After a prayer by Dr. Sweetser for the members of the organization, Mr. Williams invited the members to partake of the invited the members to partake of the sacrament which, after Dr. Sweetser had invoked grace, was responded to. The meeting was closed with a hymn.

Speaking with Dr. Sweetser after the meeting, he said that he was very well satisfied with the progress which had been made in the short space of two months. Several donations had been made toward the church fund and, when a lot had been secured, preparation for the erection of the new church would be begun.

FEW BAPTIST BULGARIANS.

So Says a Young Theologian, Speaking of

His Native Land. The Rev. Tenot Vulkoff delivered an interesting address on the "Manners and Customs of the Bulgarian People" before an audience at the Thirty-seventh Street Baptist Church last evening. Mr. Vulkoff is a young man of 22, who has been four years in this country, studying for the Baptist ministry, and is now taking a vacation from the theological seminary at Chester, Pa., by lecturing over the country on his xperiences.

Commencing with a political sketch of his country, which, as he said, was eman-cipated from the rule of the Turk by the Russians 12 years ago, the speaker diverged to the social and religious aspect of his fatherland. Very little headway was being fatherland. Very little headway was being made by Baptists, Congregationalists and Methodists having most adherents, and, socially considered, the Bulgarians should be divided into two classes, the city people, who had wealth, and consequently the power, and the countrymen, who were poor and, of course, oppressed. Mr. Vulkoff then related in a very interesting manner the trials and deprivations which he and his companion encountered on arrival in this country, and subsequently at the hands of farmers, for whom, as he said, they both worked for one man's rations and pay. Subsequently, after enduring many hardships, minds remained untrammeled by any desires of self-shness the question of voting would be quite easy. The difficulty of drawing the line of demarkation as to our ceeded in their desire to enter schools of theology. They never despaired of the goodness of God, and prayed to Him constantly for succor.

In conclusion, Mr. Vulkoff said that he had not lectured there last evening for the purpose of narrating his personal exper-iences, but rather to illustrate the efficacy of unceasing prayer, which God always bearkened to. Let them make known their wishes to God, and they would not fail to be rewarded.

The pastor, the Rev. Mr. Cramer, then alluded to the impoverished circumstances under which most theological students were obliged to work, and asked that a collection might be taken up for the gentleman who had addressed them, and who was no exception to the rule.

St. Peter's Congregation Meets. The congregation of St. Peter's German Lutheran Church, of Station street and Collins avenue, held a prolonged business meeting yesterday afternoon to close up business relating to the new edifice, which is now ready for occupancy. The election of a paster was deferred until next Sunday, when a committee will report upon several clergy-men whose names are under advisement.

A GASH IN HIS NECK.

Jack Donivan, Thomas Conner and Herman Ganster, who live in West End, went Row, on West Carson street, on Saturday night. Cassady had laid in a supply of beer, of which they all drank freely, until about 11 o'clock, when a quarrel arose about their work at the mill, and Cassady struck Donivan and knocked him down. After he been down Cassady pulled out his pocket. that men should do to you, do ye even so to their work at the mill, and Cassady struck them.' " Donivan and knocked him down. After he Donivan and knocked him down. After he was down Cassady pulled out his pocket-kuife and cut him across the neck below the right ear, but the knife was small and did little damage. They were parted by Conner, who left the house, but was afterward arrested by Officer O'Donnell and locked up in the Thirty-sixth ward station. Ganster was also arrested and locked up. Donivan was taken to a drug store near by, where his neck was dressed. Cassady has not been arrested, but the officers say they

FOR THE NEXT SCHOOL YEAR.

The Institute Preparing, as Few Tenchers Bave Yet Gone.

Though school is just over, the Executive Committee of the Teachers' Institute is preparing plans for the next school year. This body organized Saturday, with Prof. W. A. Proudfit, Chairman; Prof. S. D. Everhart, Secretary, and Superintendent Luckey, President (ex officio). The other members of the committee are Profs. C. A. Riddle and J. M. Logan.

It was decided to hold a a general session of the Teachers' Institute September 14, at which selected educational topics will be under discussion. For this purpose notices will at once be sent to the school principals (and not one, strange to say, has yet left the city, with the exception of those who have gone to Europe), asking them to state a subject for discussion that shall accrue to the best interests of the schools.

A SPEAK-EASY OVER THE LINE.

That's What's the Matter With Thirsts Denizens of the Thirty-Sixth. Quite a number of drunken men were arrested by the police at the Thirty-sixth ward station yesterday afternoon, and for the last month back the police in that district have been kept busy on Sundays arresting drunken and disorderly men who came from West Carson street, just beyond the city line. They say that the number of drunks on Sundays is caused by the operation of a speak-easy just beyond the city line, which they have reported to county officials.

ONLY HALF A DOZEN UNHAPPY.

His Honor Needs No Accountant to Figure

Up His Victims. There were only six cases in the Central station at the hearing yesterday-the smallest number for a Sunday morning hearing it was the life, miracles, the history, the death on Calvary of Jesus Christ, and His command to thenf, "Go ye and teach all nations," On these fundamental truths did they build the Christian Church.

A foundation must have a corner stone, and the apostles say that Jesus Christ was the certer stone. The Christian Church depends on ing ladies on Fifth avenue.

THE THOUGHT OF PARTING.

With Their Loud Cries.

Three females cried as if their hearts would break over the departure of some friends at the Union station last evening. One of them screamed violently and clung to her friends until the trainmen had to separate them. The loud sobs of the women attracted a great crowd of people, many of whom thought the yelling and profusion of tears were entirely unnecessary.

George's E-joyable Outing. The police were notified vesterday of the escape from Morganza of George H. Ames. aged 20 years, on Saturday. Ames is 5 feet and 11 inches tall, has light hair, gray eyes and was dressed in a blue jeans suit. He hails from Bethlehem, Washington county.

Work to be Commenced To-Day Excavating for Shops at Wall.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT CERTAIN.

No Through Freight to Pass Through the City From Any Point.

Work has been prosecuted on turning the bed of Turtle creek, which ran criss-cross through the some 300 acres owned by the company at Wall since last spring, and it is at last completed enough to commence the excavations for the roundhouse, machine shops, paint shops, offices, etc., and work will be commenced on them to-day. Peter Mannas, a contractor of Philadelphia, has charge of the excavations. P. P. Riley, a sub-contractor, arrived at Wall last night with two cars of men, who have been working on maugh. Work will be commenced to-day putting up sheds for them to live in while making the excavations. About ten acres have been cleared to commence with, and more will be cleared as fast as wanted. From 150 to 250 men will be at work before the week is out.

The excavations will be completed in about two months, and the work on the buildings will be pushed as fast as possible. Mr. J. T. Stewart is chief engineer in charge of the whole work and W. A. Darrow assistant.

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE. The roundhouse will be in the form of two-thirds of a circle and accommodate a large number of engines. The shops will have stalls for 52 cars, and when completed all freight cars will be repaired here instead of at Torrens, as at present. There will also of at Torrens, as at present. There will also be a paint shop, office, turn-tables, etc., completely occupying the 300 acres.

When this is done, beside being a general yard, all transfer freight will be brought there instead of Twenty-eighth street, completely taking all freight business away from that point, except that of the Allegheny Valley, leaving it free for a passenger yard. The Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston track to Brinton has been double-tracked and will be extended to the yards, giving connections with both branches of the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston, Lake Erie and all their connections. The Ohio connecting bridge, when completed, will be utilized to transfer the freight from all of the western points coming off the Fort the western points coming off the Fort Wayne via the Pittsburg, Virginia and on to the vards.

ADVANTAGES TO THE CITY. Thus no freight at all will pass directly through the city. The yards at Wall will also have connections with the Baltimore and Ohio at Brinton.

The change to the city will be of incalcu-

The change to the city will be of incalculable benefit in more ways than one, greatly reducing the danger at Twenty-eighth street, which has been a menace to the public for years. The delay in waiting for long freight trains over the Fort Wayne to pass the crossing at Eleventh street will also be avoided. The whole tracks in the city will be given up to passenger business and local freight. The is not yet decided. The company has been so crowded for room that it has been forced to do something, with the result out to the required channel.

TO WIDEN THE CHANNEL.

But it has not done so fast enough to suit the officers of the road, and they have now ordered the contracters to make it as wide again. This will not hinder in any way the work of the excavations and building.

The little town of Wall, barely having The little town of Wall, barely having 600 lahabitants, has hardly yet awakened to the possibilities of growth promised by the location of the yards with its retinue of freight men and other employes of the road.

The proprietor of the little hotel near the depot said yesterday that the people have not forgotten the agitation about the yards in that place in 1872 which did not amount to anything. When asked if there was possibility of a large hotel being built he smiled and said that people preferred to wait developments.

The new Westinghouse air-brake works at Wilmerding, but a short distance from Wall, will employ about 5,000 men, and, together with the shops and yards, promises to give quite an impetus to the population of that section.

Their Little Son Gone, The friends of J. O. Mabold and wife, Annie M. Mabold, sympathize with them in the loss of their infant son, Edwin, who died at the family residence, 34 Federal street, Allegheny, on Saturday. The funeral took place yesterday. The child in its little casket, surrounded with flowers, emblems of love's last tribute, was beautiful, even in Dragged by a Freight. A workman in the National Tube Works attempted to board a freight train on the Pennsylvania road. He fell to the ground, and the cars, catching his clothes, dragged him some feet. When picked up he was insensible and badly hurt. He was taken to the West Penn. Nobody seemed to

PERFECTLY HARMONIOUS.

Pather Sheedy Tells How Nicely He and Public School Fared.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of delegates of the various Catholic organizations of this city was held yesterday after noon, in the hall of the Duquesne school the object being to make arrangements for the laying of the cornerstone of the new St. Maryo' Mercy's parochial school. Mr. John Donnelly presided, Dr. John Sullivan acting as secretary.

Rev. Father Sheedy explained the object of the meeting, and during his remarks PROSPECTIVE BOOM FOR A JUNCTION referred to the great fuss that had been created by the parochial school having The long-looked-for yards and shops at Wall, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, are at last about to assume material form.
